Sport Experience Class Example

Scenario: The CX employee receives a sports experience class voucher from the company and uses the Sportatous App to find a sports experience class they like. Here is a summary of the process:

Example 1: The employee browses through available sports experience classes using the App. They find a class they like and make an inquiry through the app. The coach receives the inquiry and agrees to the date and time arrangement. The coach confirms the class booking within the App. Despite the class's reference price being HKD 1,000, the coach will only receive HKD 200 through the Sportatous from the CX (after deducting transfer costs).

Example 2: The same employee receives a second sports experience voucher from the employer and decides to book with the same coach they liked before. Whether the same person is allowed to use the sports experience voucher multiple times is determined by the coach. While it is recommended that the coach should consider accepting, ultimately, it depends on the coach's schedule.

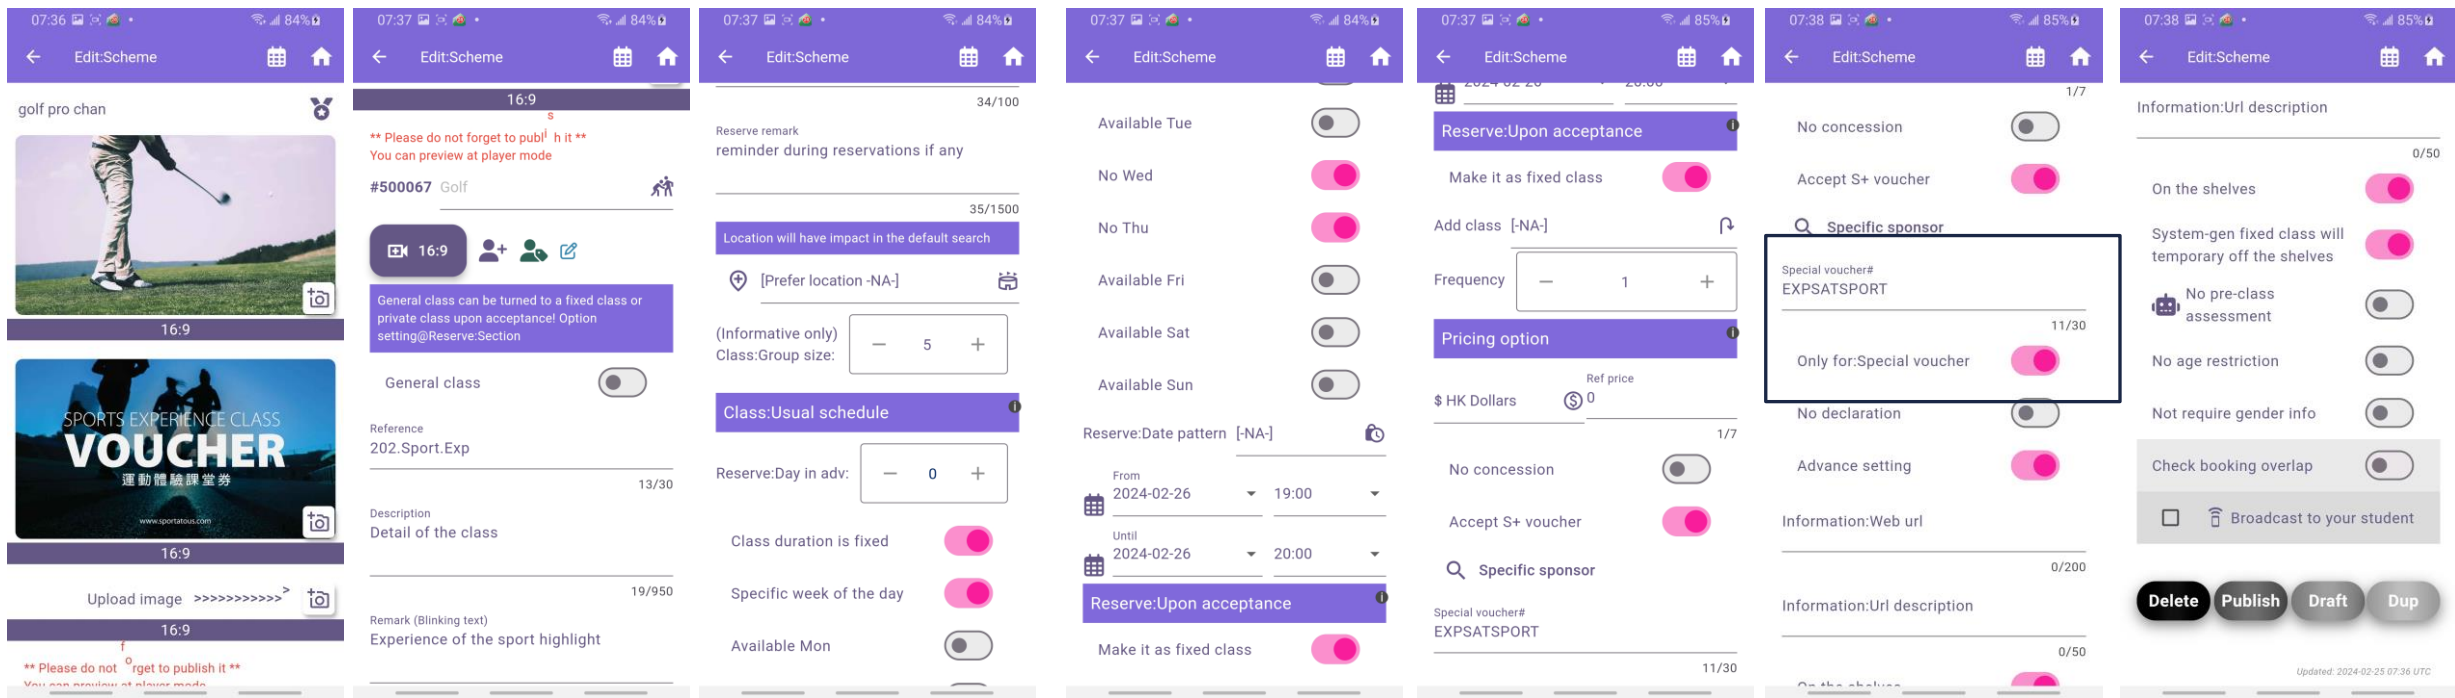

Example 3: The employee receives a HKD 200 sports cash voucher through shopping rewards and chooses the same coach as before. However, this time it is not for a sports experience class. The class still has a reference price of HKD 1,000. In this case, the coach will receive HKD 800 in cash from the employee and HKD 200 in cash through the Sportatous from the Retailer(s) (after deducting transfer costs).
